R&D, STUDIO ONE

FURSYS GROUP has been running a specialized research institute and has been making continuous efforts to design environment beyond furniture. We have been conducting scientific and systematic research focusing on people's lives to realize good products. Through this, we design a living space that responds organically to the needs and circumstances of the user.

Integrated Institute 'STUDIO ONE'

Recognizing the importance of design management in the early days, FURSYS GROUP established the first furniture research institute in 1989 to establish a leading research environment. In 2018, we are inheriting the design philosophy of "STUDIO ONE", which is named together with the new construction of the integrated research space. As of 2018, about 17% of the employees are made up of R&D personnel, boasting exceptional design competitiveness.

We are maximizing the synergy of R&D capabilities in an integrated research.

PRODUCTION, QUALITY and the ENVIRONMENT

FURSYS believes in self manufacture and thorough quality tests. From single parts to the packaging of completed products, all processes are conducted in our own factories. With specialized production lines equipped with the latest technology, by following the strict standards and quality of BIFMA and EN, we self-manufacture everything from parts to completed products.
